

Jeremiah

When Jeremiah was just a boy, God told him that he was going to be a prophet. He was going to tell all sorts of people about God. Jeremiah couldn't believe it!

God and Jeremiah had a big talk. "Jeremiah, I knew who you were before you were even growing inside your mom," God said. "You were born to be a prophet!"

Jeremiah was nervous. "But, God, I'm just a kid! I don't know what to say to grown-ups!" he said.

"We'll do it together," God said. "Where you go, I will go with you. When you talk, I'll give you the words."

God touched Jeremiah's lips. "Now your mouth is full of my words," God announced. "Go tell everybody about my love."

God and Jeremiah made a good team. Jeremiah took God's love to many people in many places.
